

Strategy Development Committee Report to Summer 2008 PC
by Joel Rahn

Since the Winter PC, the strategy development process has been energized by the efforts of Jim Lyneis and Kim Warren to solicit and focus further input from the Society listserv concerning strategic long-term goals. The results, to date, have been less than overwhelming in terms of breadth of participation and depth of responses. To progress further, meetings are being arranged for times immediately preceding, during and after the Conference in Athens with a view to engaging Society members with a wider range of geographic and experience backgrounds.
